

CASE STUDY:

Migrating from SourceOne to VERITAS Enterprise Vault, Using Globanet Migration Services

THE CUSTOMER AND THEIR SITUATION

The customer is a financial holding company and bank holding company. They used SourceOne for archiving and had accumulated over 32 TB of data in the system. They realized that they needed a method to select a subset of that data and migrate it into Enterprise Vault. They then began looking for a more stable and robust solution as they expanded their archiving suite.

SEEKING A SOLUTION

The customer approached Globanet to provide a solution to migrate from SourceOne into Enterprise Vault and manage the migration through completion. As a migration specialist that has developed its own tools around migrations, Globanet was ideal to develop the solution. Globanet worked with the customer to develop an approach that was suitable for the customer's environment, documented the methodology and prepared the infrastructure for the migration.

The migration was initiated and the required data was migrated successfully from SourceOne to Enterprise Vault. Globanet's solution provided a flexible and non-intrusive migration.
